

Technical Recruitment Advisor (Internship Programme)

Would connecting people with the right roles make you feel satisfied and proud?
Are you interested in technology and learning the “language” of IT professionals?
Are you eager to launch your career in technical recruitment and you want somebody to give you a hand to make the first steps?

That is why we are here – together with our partner MNKnowledge we will provide you with a FREE 2-month Recruitment & Technical training, starting at the beginning of February 2018. The vacancies are limited so don't wait for another chance and grab this one now!

Probably you wonder what is so unique about our programme?

We are pretty sure that if you have ever tried to find a Technical Training specifically tailored for Recruiters, you have probably ended up with empty hands. And as we know how crucial the technical knowledge is when speaking to Tech Gurus, we would like to give you a hand. MNKnowledge with their proven experience in this field have tailored an advanced Technical course for recruitment needs which will show you the entire picture of the IT and Computer science, without wasting your time with historical facts or giving you “Hello world!” tasks.

From the Recruitment side, you will have the opportunity to gain hands-on experience with the whole recruitment process, from communication with clients, researching the labour market and position requirements, proactive approaching of suitable candidates and screening of resumes to interviewing and consulting candidates to empower them to take the most effective decisions. This will happen with the help of our successful recruiters certified by Social Talent, one of the most renowned recruitment certifications worldwide.

And one more thing – by successfully completing our part-time flexible programme and demonstrating high performance and results in both its recruitment and technical training parts, you will have the opportunity to continue your career and professional development as a Technical Recruitment Advisor with us.

But, why with us?

Because you will get to work in a friendly and dynamic atmosphere, where voicing your opinion, thinking out of the box and getting out of your comfort zone are highly encouraged.

Because we at PFG Bulgaria are talented Consultants in the recruitment of IT professionals and our main goal is high quality services, matching the skills and personality of the candidates to the requirements and expectations of our partners, so that both sides are happy and satisfied.

Because we respect the saying “Work hard, play hard.”, so we are very dedicated to our work but at the same time we also love laughing, joking a lot and getting together after work for board games, drinks or another fun activity.

So are you ready for your next experience?

If you believe you are and you are eager to join our team and internship programme, do not hesitate to apply by sending us your up-to-date CV together with a cover letter in English to nevina.stoycheva@pfgbulgaria.com.

If shortlisted, we will contact you with further details about this opportunity.
